Hiring high school students may seem like a difficult process, but it's not!

Join Sinclair College's Work-based Learning Office, Ohio College Tech Prep-West Region and the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce for breakfast and hear from a variety of presenters that will help your company understand the process of recruiting your next talented workforce.

The Ohio Department of Education will provide an overview of the state's initiative to create more work-based learning opportunities for high school students to prepare them for future careers.

Also, Ohio Department of Commerce will be on hand to explain the minor labor laws and debunk the myths surrounding hiring high school students.

We will also have a panel of companies that currently employ high school students. These businesses will share their processes and integration of high school students in their workforce.
